Palatine picked up all the marbles in Friday's Wildcat Relays at Wheeling High School, but it wasn't as easy as the team thought it might be.

The Red and White scored 53 points, but took only three blue ribbons. Wheeling, the second-place team with 37 1/2 points, may, but couldn't make the change in the runner-up department.

Palatine's six second-place finishes earned the most title for the Peoria. Wheeling managed only two runner-up medals.

THIRD PLACE went to surprising Forest View, which tallied 20 points. The Falcons grabbed only one first place, but it was a heat. Senior Pat Dunnigan, a football and basketball star already this year, won the low hurdles event by 7 seconds flat, setting a new Wildcat Relays and Forest View High School record. The old mark was 12.

Dunnigan also took second in the 50-yard dash. Forest View and added a third in the broad jump.

Palatine's sixth-place finish was paced by senior Bob Yeazel, who won the 100-yard dash in 4:14. The time also was a Wheeling field house record.

SENIOR DEWEY was Arlington's number two runner, taking a third in the pole vault with a leap of 11 feet. Phil Corduff of Prospect won the event with a 12-foot-4-inch leap.

The fourth-place finishers rounded out the Arlington scoring. The Cardinal four-leg relay team of Jim Kuroy, Terry Enright, Larry Malcomson, and Dave Treng won the low hurdles event by 7 seconds flat, setting a new Wildcat Relays and Forest View High School record. The old mark was 12.

Slot Car Races and Knights

Busy Weekend for Scouts

Above — A very special dubline as a Knight of the Round Table was given to Bruce Brownawell, 4, by his sister Beth, 6, at Friday night's Cub Scout Pack 161 meeting. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Brownawell, 1243 S. Pine. Cub Scouts in Arlington Heights are using the "Knight of the Round Table" theme this month for activities.

Right — Dale Winkelmann, 10, of 3705 S. Wren, is prepared to play dragons and rescue maidens in distress as a "Knight of the Round Table" from Cub Scout Pack 37 of St. Peter Lutheran Church.

"Knights of the Round Table" from Cub Scout Pack 37 of St. Peter's Lutheran Church are: Bill Smith, 9, of 203 W. Marion (left); Steven Mergel, 8, of 210 E. Maude; Randy Norvel, 8, of 203 S. Kennicott; Dale Winkelmann, 10, of 3705 S. Wren and Richard Wille, 10, of 1555 Val.

The Arlington Heights answer to the Schwing race took place Friday night when several Cub Scout Packs held the annual Pinewood Derby. The boys designed their own racers and awards were presented for speed and appearance. The cars could not weigh more than five ounces and special weighing in ceremonies were held at each meeting.

To make the races even more authentic, Pack 130, sponsored by the Weigate School PTA, had a Scout with a checkered flag waving the winner through the finish line.

The theme of "Knights of the Round Table" was in evidence Friday when other Cub Scout Packs displayed armor and awards they made. Members of Pack 162 received "the Wolf," "the Bear" and "the Lion" awards, and in Pack 37 the best armor was judged and the winning den received the handcraft award for the month.

Right — First place winner for speed in Den 6 of Cub Scout Pack 161 is Lionel Lenz, 9, of 402 N. Dwyer. The Pinewood Derby was held Friday night at several Cub Pack meetings in Arlington Heights.

Pinewood Derby winners from Cub Scout Pack 161 with their racers and trophies are: Mike Shanley, 8, of 707 S. Kaspar, second place, speed (left); Mike Lenz, 9, of 402 N. Dwyer, third place, appearance and John Hoppe, 10, of 305 S. Ridge, third place, speed.

The Grand Champion for the Cub Scout Pack 161 Pinewood Derby is Gerry Rayba, 10, of Mount Pleasant. He won first place for speed and first place for appearance in the Friday night competition.

Filing closed at 5 P.M. yesterday.

Rocket Test Flight Delayed

CAPE KENNEDY — The scheduled launch this morning of an Atlas-Centaur rocket on a test flight from Cape Kennedy has been put on an indefinite hold. Condemnation of a library site was started Monday night during a meeting of the Arlington Heights Village Board. Trustees authorized the village attorney to draft a resolution of condemnation for property within one square block bounded by Euclid, Fremont, Van and Division. The action was taken at a meeting conducted from last Monday because of a large volume of business.

Truman John F. White said he had conferred with attorney Jack Siegel during the afternoon and relayed a request to act on condemnation.

"The library board has already approved condemnation, but technically it is up to the village to take action," White said.

His motion was passed with no dissent.

The library board seeks to sell its present building at 112 N. Belmont and build a new library facility by a $1,500,000 bond.

The village board deferred action on annexation of the proposed high school site north of Thomas St., east of Buffalo Grove Rd. and south of Palestine Rd. Tomorrow in dedication of streets across the subdivision of One 214 board of education which was meeting Monday night.

An other action the trustees ordered an ordinance passed establishing the pay of architectural consultant members at $20 per meeting, or as an amount $1,000 per year.

First Aid Champions

At the annual South Woods First Aid Meet held recently at Forest View High School, the 1965 champions, sponsored by the First Methodist Church, placed first in the meet and captured the first four places. First place went to the Falcons, second to the Osage, third to the Panthers, fourth to the Cobras and seventh place to the Indians. Members of the first place Falcons patrol who advanced were: Bill Rahlmann, 11, of 820 N. Williams St. (center); Mark Griffin, 12, of 1521 W. Oak; Des Peterson, 14, of 2585 E. Grove; Robert Baser, 11, of 38 N. Belmont; Mal Bygh, 14, of 215 S. Duane; Jeff Soghaman, 12, of 744 N. Pine; Chris Burkhardt, 11, 4411 E. Miller; and Tim Fichter, 13, of 1235 S. Kasper.

Super Government Feared

Will northeastern Illinois be subject to a super government within the next 30 years? This was one of the major questions asked by Arlington Heights government and school officials, as they considered how best to develop proposals.

The question will reach the decision stage when the Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission makes its report to the General Assembly on how best to provide for future growth in the counties of Cook, DuPage, Lake, McHenry, Kane and Will.

"I don't see how we can have implementation of any plan without a super government," said Harold W. Kling, one of the village's board of school improvement.

"You have to have some sort of enabling legislation for someone to say where the highways are going, where the shopping centers are going. Klingman made his comment when more than 30 officials met March 26 to view NIPC proposals. Those range from a plan for 1,000,000 population center in satellite cities such as Waukegan and Elgin to the development of densely populated suburban communities along major highways in routes leading into Chicago.

Laurel A. Brever, a village trustee, said he saw a parallel to Los Angeles County during the early 1960s when the California legislature granted the county zoning power over all areas.

"The Los Angeles Police Department and the fire department have complete power. Many old towns and villages lose their identities, for example, the town of Palos Park has no power to zone property. It is all done by the county.

"The thing that happened there I wouldn't want to see happen here."

John G. Woods, president of the village board, said that officials of the Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission has repeatedly stated their opposition to metropolitan government.

John J. Walsh Jr., a village trustee, and Robert Bukowski, a former village trustee and now a member of the board of education of Elementary School District 25, both praised the NIPC for a complete inventory of facilities in the area.

"We should not read into this agency the same type of political implication you would expect in a group such as the county board," Bukowski said.

Woods said he felt communities should have a stronger voice in the type of development that are permitted in their neighborhoods.

the proposed plan.

"Forest Preserves are all right, but you only use them on the Fourth of July or Labor Day. The rest of the time they are idle. When good are they if the kids can't use them. I'm in favor of neighborhood parks and I am glad to see our park district moving in that direction."

Woods said the community should come to a conclusion on what kind of a plan it favors.

"We should protect ourselves as to the implementation of that plan, but they (the NIPC) are looking for guidance and we should influence their decision as much as we can."

A Nice Story

By Catherine O'Donnell

The nicest thing of the week concerns the Student Council of Arlington Heights High School. Without fussing, picketing, noise or anything else, council members accomplished something that will be greeted by cheers from the entire paying population of boys, girls and their parents.

It was a silent movement, petitions, asking the local movie there for a student admission to the movie. The Student Council of Arlington Heights High School, Foreview, Prospect, Sacred Heart and St. Vincent's were presented to the Arlington Heights and, while there, a few of the students were asked to be screened out, there should be student status, positive of the office any evening now.

At present, it will be effective only during the weekday nights and can be obtained only by presenting a pass. The pass can be obtained by paying the theatre one dollar and presenting a student identification card. It will include the student to sixteen age bracket.

The student council executive members from Arlington High School, are president, Tom Jacobs, Roy Matthews, vice president, Sue P. Johnson, recording secretary, Carol McNulty, corresponding secretary, George Miller, treasurer, and Sue Blum, traffic court judge.

"It's not perfect," comment Council member Sue Chodas, "but it is a compromise."

Sub Teen World

Is the subteen world, things are happening, too. A letter written by a 14-year-old Arlington Heights family relay the recent happening at a Jack movie theatre in California.

During a matinee showing of a about 100 to 200, one of the overhauled boys in the audience shot an arrow at the bad guys and ruined the expensive screen.

The same letter describes a tour of an old Spanish Mission taken by the same family.

"Ma," asked the five year old, "Did we pay to get in here?"

"No, dear," said his exasperated mother, "we didn't."

"Well," said the bored youngster, "I'll bet we have to go to get out."

'That Awkward Stage' Just Isn't for These Girls

The fragile blouses drifted down the models' ramp, rattling as the audience as made a graceful turn. Then the graceful models, crowding her arm to show the views of the dress she wore.

"Her carriage, smile and pose were typical of a model in a Dior show."

But the girl is not a Dior model. She is a 14-year-old Arlington Heights high school student.

She's supposed to be a victim of modern clothes as "several signs" that she isn't in the realm of the Wendy Ward charm program of Montgomery Ward & Co.

Since establishment of the program in November, 1963, about 2,000 girls have studied clothes selection, cosmetics and hair-styling in an eight-week course designed to help them grow up gracefully.

The course is conducted locally in a second-floor room of Ward's Randolph store. Appropriately, the room abounds with mirrors.

"SELF-CONFIDENCE," the most important thing the girls gain is the program," said Ann Mahan, vice-president of Montgomery Ward.

"The youngsters are mostly 12, 14 and 15 years of age at which they're just beginning to develop a fashion awareness."

"They are young, and our goal is not to push them, but to make them confident to face their future as women," Mahan Mahan said.

This goal is accomplished by making the girls proud of themselves, she added.

They also study fashion coordination — essentially, when to wear what.

"The Wendy Ward room bears much evidence of their work. On the walls are cut-outs from leading fashion and women's wear magazines and one room is devoted to snappy-looking outfits the girls have put together."

Besides the desire to look their best, students are motivated by the desire of parents, those who have made outstanding progress.

Participants in the program are given a certificate of completion. "The girls who are given for."

The participants are notified of their selection when modeling assignments are made for the graduation fashion show," Miss Mahan said.

"The girls who are given for."

girls to wear are the point for

"When I design formal," she said, smiling, "there is lots of jumping up and down and squealing."

PACEMAKERS who modeled at the most recent Wendy Ward graduation were Gail Karanish, Lake Park High School, and Marilyn Kallus, Sue Lambart and Nancy Fransen, all of Mount West. Wendy Ward queens selected by a vote of her classmates, was Gayle Pascual of Arlington Heights, a Wheeling High School student. Gayle received a floral crown from retiring queen Judy Scarborough, also of Arlington Heights and Wheeling High School.

Miss Mahan, who manages the Ward classes with an easy sense of humor, says she's proud of her charges and enjoys her relationship with them.

"Many of the girls come and talk to me about their problems," she said. "I welcome a chance to help."

"At this age, the closeness of the girls to their mothers probably has fostered timidity, and I'm glad to be the handy adult confident."

Teen-age girls aren't the only ones involved in the Wendy Ward program. Classes for little girls (the Wendy Ward) are also offered at the Randolph store.

Poised as Dior mannequins, teen-age students of the Wendy Ward charm program model as a recent fashion show.

Tasty Dips For Festive Occasions

Dips for snacks are half the fun of a party — and here are a couple of tasty dips that will make your next get-together more festive.

One recipe, which uses zippy American blue cheese and cottage cheese, is perfect for dippers. The accompanying "dunks" could be: rye crisp, carrot sticks, celery stalks, raw radishes or cauliflower buds.

The other dip is for guests not counting calories. It combines sour cream, sweet and tart cranberry sauce and blue cheese, and goes well with cooked meat cubes.

DIETER'S DIP (makes about two cups)
3/4 cup crumbled American blue cheese (about 4 ounces)
1 1/2 cups cottage cheese
1/4 teaspoon black pepper
1 tablespoon chopped green onions
Beat cheese together with almost smooth. Add pepper and onion. Mix well. Chill. Serve with rye crisp or raw vegetable sticks.

Alston Will Open Minus Two Stars

Manager Walt Alston of the Los Angeles Dodgers is making plans to start the season without his two top pitchers - Sandy Kousser and Don Drysdale.

Even if his two holdover pitchers do come to terms, it's evident now that neither will be ready to go when the bell rings in about two weeks from now - at least not for six months.

More Winners?
Manager Eddie Stanky of the Chicago White Sox says there are so many good young pitchers in the American League that he expects to be more 20 game winners than last year.

THE BEST USED

When we sell NEW automobiles we act only as a retailer, selling merchandise that bears another's name and reputation.

CARS ARE AT BILL COOK

Our Used Car Creed
When we sell USED cars, we take on some of the responsibility of a manufacturer.

"We have succeeded as a merchant of recently discarded automobiles with the honesty of our product and our methods."

"We can afford to prepare our reputation for the honest dealer who cannot offer with pride and confidence."

"Our USED cars must be honestly reconditioned to give you the benefit of a product that will create the right and good reputation."

Looking to a Soaring Future

BY MAXINE TOMA

Some ambitious young men don't want to keep both feet on the ground. They want to fly. They want to soar. So they join the Civil Air Patrol.

The Arlington Heights Squadron of the Civil Air

Patrol meets every Monday night at 7 p.m. at the American Legion Hall, 121 N. Douglas.

Membership in the group is open to boys and girls of high school age who are interested in adventure, aerospace and activity. March is recruiting month for the CAP and the best recruiters are the individual members.

A training and activity program is designed for the 15 active cadets in the Arlington Heights program. Under the direction of senior officers the boys learn military procedure, and have an opportunity to learn and discuss modern procedures in aeronautics.

The national headquarters of the Civil Air Patrol at Ellington Air Force Base, Texas, sponsors a series of programs to introduce cadets to flight flying.

A 40-hour orientation course designed to motivate cadets toward aviation careers is conducted at Chanute Air Force Base, Kansas. To be eligible for the course, cadets must have satisfactory grades in high school chemistry or physics.

The course provides a concentrated week of lectures and "field trips" and is aimed at a level above high school age. Cadets have an opportunity to gain practical pilot experience—flying hours and aviation training—which may lead to a pilot's license.

All the cadets in the program attend the meetings because they want to stimulate their interest in aviation. The Arlington Heights group has several cadets who transferred into their squadron when they moved to the community from out of state.

"We're here because we like it," they say. The boys who begin the program usually stay. Cadets learn from other cadets and from senior members of the group.

On the weekend of March 25 the group will go on an outdoor training exercise at the Chicago's Meigs Field. The purpose of the outing is to teach the cadets to rely on themselves. On Sunday they will take a flight as part of their continuing program.

Interested high school boys and girls may contact Eugene Braml, 956 N. Rose, 392-6172 or J. H. Gellhoff, 801 Chestnut, CL 5-2189 for further information. Students also are welcome to attend any Monday night meeting to get acquainted with CAP cadets and senior members.

Second Lieutenant Thomas Serbaugh, 18, of 907 S. Beverly, concentrates on a drill instruction in new recruits.

Mrs. Charles Eklund, of Chicago Eklund and Mrs. Henry, Alphonse and Arlington Heights Rd., winners of the Chicago World Flower and Garden Show.

The Chicago World Flower and Garden Show

The Chicago World Flower and Garden Show was presented "a bloom's success"
by all who saw it at McCormick Place, last week.
Many of the Flower Show gardens were designed around the theme "America the Beautiful" and incorporated colorful plants, trees, shrubs and flowers. The ensemble included "Nature's Trail" by the Forest Preserve District of Cook County, a duplication of the flowers and ferns typical of Illinois' shaded forest areas; "A Showland Arboretum" by Ornamental Growers Ass'n of Northern Illinois, showing that every schoolyard is a potential beauty spot.
Table setting and flower arrangement competition based on the show theme, were presented by the Garden Club of Illinois.

"Grandeur", grand-prize-winning table setting, featured this elegant, colorful flower arrangement of Easter lilies and white snapdragons. The Tuesday Garden Club of Illinois designed the table arrangement.

Late Tuesday, the pickup truck was found again, empty, behind the county garage at Algonquin and Meecham.

Police had still not found McCormick, who allegedly had the truck stolen from him before the first theft, and Dillon, out on bail Monday, could not be found for questioning Tuesday.

Nonresident Library Policy Under Review

The Arlington Library Tuesday night began a review of the library's policy of service to persons who own property in the village, but who reside outside the village.

Mrs. C. Hendrickson, board president, said that the village has a policy that the village as a whole should pay a fee for the use of the library. Persons who live outside the village, even if they own property in the village, must pay a fee of $15.

The matter will be given further consideration at the board's next meeting April 26.

Use Leftover Ham

Here's A Pair Of Easy to Fix Dinner Ideas

Two good ideas for what to do with leftover ham are ham-macaroni bake and sliced ham with sweet-corn sauce. Developed by the R. T. French Co. test kitchen, these dishes are economical and quick to prepare.

The bake calls for a combination of dried ham and cooked macaroni seasoned with cheese sauce and prepared vegetable soup. It is to be prepared in the morning and popped into the oven just before dinner.

Ham with sweet-corn sauce has been sliced with a sauce that can be whipped together in a bowl in 10 minutes.

Ham-Macaroni Bake

2 cups cooked elbow macaroni (1 cup uncooked)

1 1/2 cups dried cooked ham

2 tablespoons dried green pepper

1/2 cup French's 1 Instant Mince Onion

3/4 cup milk

1/2 cup mayonnaise

1 envelope (1-1/8 oz.) French's Cheese Sauce Mix

2 tablespoons French's Prepared Yellow Mustard

1 egg

Cooked macaroni, ham, green pepper and onion is a featured 1 1/2 quart shallow casserole.

Cooked ham, macaroni, sauce mix (directly from jar), yellow mustard and egg is a small mixing bowl.

Stir thoroughly with rotary beater. Mix four cups of macaroni and ham, bake in 350-degree oven 35 to 45 minutes or until white tip inserted in center of casserole comes out clean. Stir servings.

Ham in Sweet-Corn Sauce

1 slice (1 serving) dried cooked ham

1 tablespoon butter or margarine

1 envelope (1-1/8 oz.) French's Hollandaise Sauce Mix

1/2 cup cold water

1/4 cup orange marmalade

In a hot skillet, sauté slices of ham in the butter just long enough for meat to become hot but not browned.

Meanwhile, empty contents of sauce mix into a small mixing bowl.

Stir in cold water and orange marmalade.

Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil and thickens. Serve over slices of hot ham. Stir servings.

Ham-macaroni bake combines dried leftover ham with cheese sauce mix and yellow mustard.

George Just Can't Resist the Power Of Suggestion

"Food! Glorious food!" sings the chorus of hungry phrases in the musical "Oliver."

By the time the audience has finished their pathetic chant, the audience is hungry, too.

That's how it is with television.

Eat a good meal, cut up on the crew, and you'll see the commercials and the audience is hungry, too.

The power of suggestion is the central theme of a beautiful woman and a distinguished gentleman over a certain French dinner is too much for most of us.

Even if we tried that French dinner and it was horrible, we're ready to run and there one into the oven.

THIS IS unfortunate for people on diets, many of whom watch television in the vain hope of taking their minds off food.

The no-called diet book promises the same suggestion for people trying to give up smoking.

And then there are the poor souls who attempt to lose weight and stop smoking at the same time, like George.

George is a nervous man and has a nerve-wrecking cough. He has a nerve-wrecking cough.

Two packs a day for several years, but that isn't enough to keep him from smoking.

THESE HABITS have produced a bad cough and a nerve-wrecking cough.

George wanted the cure, a feeling of inner peace, a feeling of inner peace.

It was the television program that turned George's coughing into a commercial showing after the show of hamburgers.

George checked his first and last cigarette.

Then came the next commercial.

JUDGE BURTON HOLMAN

Dist. 214 to Check School Bus Service

IN A Transportation recommendations presented to the board Monday by Harold L. Sliceney, superintendent of the district, 14 regular and 42 activity routes were called for during the 1966-67 school year.

Sliceney recommended that the bus company purchase three additional buses to replace the three current buses. Sliceney pointed out, operate more than one route.

Mrs. Cammisa told the board that her complaints came through anonymous phone calls. "I usually disregard such calls," she said, "but in this case the allegations were serious enough to warrant investigation."

Cook County School Bus Inc. is incorporated by Mrs. and Mrs. L. H. Smith, 1522 Woodland East, South Holland. Donald C. Pyles is listed as the third incorporator. The Strals also operates Illinois School Bus Co., owning about 100 school buses serving the South Suburban Chicago area.

MRS. SARMA, a widow who started out as the company as a bus driver and advanced to general manager of the Cook County operation, declined Mrs. Cammisa's allegations flatly.

She said that the company, despite the fact that it pays the highest driver rate in the suburbs, has a problem of personnel.

She said she is fully satisfied with the service as called for by the contract with Dist. 214. She said that when buses do not run it is reported to the business office of Dist. 214 and the company is not paid when it provides service for loss. Peter Luchini School in Arlington Heights and the Park Lutheran School in Mount Prospect.

"Buses do not run in the elementary schools before they complete their obligation to the high schools," Mrs. Sarma said. She produced her driver assignment sheet showing that the buses serving the parochial schools make two routes for Dist. 214.

She said that no separate records of gas use are kept for the time, but the buses are on parolous.

Mrs. Sarma said that the bus company purchases about 20,000 gallons of gasoline a month from Mobil Oil Co.

SHR said that say gasoline now used in the school buses, which average only four miles, is accounted for separately and the figures are filed out so that the 4-cent state tax can be paid.

About 100 gallons of gasoline a week are provided for the Plaza Exchange Co., Mrs. Sarma said. This gasoline is sold for 22 cents a gallon. She said Cook County School Bus Inc. makes the gasoline available to Plaza in return for snow plowing and grading work on their grounds.

"This is strictly within the law," Mrs. Sarma said.

She produced state tax forms showing that the 4-cent state taxes were paid on the gasoline purchased by Plaza.

UNDER newly passed state law, Dist. 214 levies 3 cents for each $100 of assessed value for transportation. Previously, the statutory limit was 2 cents for $100 of assessed value and deficits were made up by transfer of money from the education fund.

Now, the statutory limit is 3 cents for $100 of assessed value.

At last Monday's board meeting, the board of directors of the district approved a proposal for 1966-67.

"We have a problem, but I don't see it as a watershed," Mrs. Cammisa said.

Surprise Inspection

Investigators from the Secretary of State's office pulled a surprise inspection on buses operated by Cook County School Bus Inc. yesterday morning as part of a statewide operation.

Dist. 214 Assistant Super. Jack Martin said no violations were found. He said that the investigators labeled the Cook County operation, "one of the cleanest they have seen."

One of the state's inspectors, who was as much as two hours late for school as a state police investigator driver.

Dist. 214 reported no interruption of school bus service.

Driver Check Still Up in Air

By Martin Tynes

A village ordinance pertaining to qualifications for school bus drivers was questioned last night by Arlington Heights school superintendents at a meeting of school administrators and representatives of the village public safety committee.

The controversial ordinance which was passed in December, 1965, by the Arlington Heights Village Board has been under attack since then by school boards.

The point questioned last night was not the provision for safety inspection of the buses but regulation of the drivers. The current ordinance states that any person seeking a license as a bus driver must submit the "names and addresses of four residents of the village who have known the applicant for at least two years and who will vouch for his ability, honesty and general good character of the applicant."

The applicant also is required

Prospect Debaters Advance

The Village Debate Team of Prospect High School will compete in the state tournament held Friday and Saturday, April 1 and 2 at Illinois State University in Normal.

The team earned the right to participate in the state event through its fourth place finish at the Illinois High School Assn. Sectional March 5.

At the sectional, Prospect debated the topic, resolved: That the federal government should adopt a policy of compulsory unionism.

Prospect's affirmative case was presented by the team's manager, James H. Hunter and Greg Schmidt of Mount Prospect presented the affirmative case and senior Norm Hunter of Prospect presented the negative case.

At the state tournament, Greg Schmidt and Greg Hunter will present the affirmative case that strikes are harmful to the economy and to related industries. Norm Hunter and Gary Edwards will contend for the negative case that strikes are beneficial by striking.

Other April activities for the debate teams include hosting their own open house and attending a Student Congress at the University of Illinois.

At the Congress the debaters will propose bills to various committees. The bills will be debated in a mock House and Senate.

Square Dance Club for Teens

The "twirl" Team, a square dance group for high school students, meets every Thursday from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. at the Mount Prospect Country Club in the Sky Room.

Harry Goss of Kaneland is the instructor. Information on the club can be obtained from Goss at L.A. 5541 or from Chalk, club president at CL-5241. Beginners are welcome.

College Actor

Michael Griffith of Palatine, a graduate of Arlington High School and a junior at Evanston College, is appearing in the college production of Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream."

Part of group gathered last night in the village hall to hear plan commission investigation into thoroughfare plan presented in the village by Tice-Deane House

Give Street Plan Bumpy Reception

"Why would they let them get across four?"

He pointed out that speeds would increase with four lanes, but the result would be very little real time difference for motorists.

In closing his remarks to the commission, Tice-Deane said that the plan would be to destroy beauty and to create hazards for pedestrians, especially children.

BILL GRIFFITH, 8, of 1414 W. 141st, spoke in support of Tice-Deane's objection, noting that there are three park trails along the street, especially at Euclid and Arlington Heights, would improve the traffic flow even more.

The other major objection came from residents of the St. Augustine subdivision, and was the idea of a petition to the Board of Aldermen, signed by George Goss, 343 S. Wilshire.

Goss said the petition contained 329 names and asked that the commission allow the addition of 70 more names which, he said, are forthcoming.

He said the St. Augustine project is against the proposal to build a crossing at the North West and Euclid tracks at North and Euclid.

Drivers don't take the time to allow children to get safely across two lanes," he said.

Insistently as the commission makes a point. Last night's hearing was adjourned for six weeks. About 90 residents were present.

Wheeling Tons County Building

Building construction was valued at $2,190,945 was permitted during the month of January by the Cook County Department of Building and Zoning, which has jurisdiction in the incorporated areas.

Of this total, Wheeling Township was granted the most permits, 24, with an estimated value of $1,000,000.

Other residents of the area suggested making the crossing at the intersection of Euclid and Arlington Heights, would improve the traffic flow even more.

Energy, Anyone?

New that spring is about to be sprung and the tide is changing in the U.S. It is to pass along a bit of Hawaiian philosophy given to me by my friend Mike Nipke of Honolulu. It seems just right for our time of the world about to come a little better.

"In Hawaii," she said, "whenever anyone says they feel like just for now and it will go away."

Wonderful Hawaii. Small World.

Nancy Louise Orr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Orr of West End is studying Chinese culture and Chinese art. She is also tutoring Chinese children in the English language. She is doing all of this at the University of Taiwan, the capital of Taiwan or Formosa.

Besides teaching English to the boys and girls, she tutors the Taipei post department. Nancy has been there since last June. She still isn't certain of how long she'll stay.

She traveled to her present assignment on a tramp steamer because it was something she wanted to do. Before she left, she had been teaching school in Washington, D.C. and in San Francisco.

Eventually, her parents say, she will return and teach in the U.S. She will also give lessons in various Chinese musical instruments.

Not for Burning. Billy and Lydia Brittain worked for the best part of a lifetime in the U.S. before their birthday came for Sparks.

Sparks is the family cock and as he made of cats as he liked.

The cake was made at the school.

Some Day

Debby is not 2 years old yet and her vocabulary is restricted to Yes and No and a growing number of words.

Debby's main occupation is following her daddy around the house just in case he needs help. Her mother says it is often.

Yesterday daddy was suffering from a cold and was giving a good healthy foot to his nose when he happened to catch sight of Debby out of the corner of his eye.

There she was, trailing a long, long line of hair, plugging her ears.

All of which brings us to the sound of laughter and the announcement by Dad Publications that The Prospect Day is making its appearance Monday, April 18.

The Arlington Heights newspaper received such a warm welcome that it is only natural that the publisher to believe Mount Prospect, so closely related to Arlington Heights, would react similarly to a daily issue.

The Prospect Day should have one advantage, provided there are honest men in the ranks of the mental and mechanical groups now enjoying the pioneering of daily newspapers in the suburbs.

And that brings us to both

Debby and The Day. Being young is wonderful; it should really happen more than this.

A newspaper or a young girl should cherish that youthful spirit, the desire to learn, to see what makes things tick.

The beginner heretofore the most of birth, but the future of the process of growing and learning continues daily.

With a young spirit and a desire to know what makes things tick. The Day will treat such as a new challenge.

Happiness is

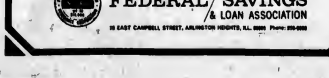

Relaxed Retirement

Every hard-working person deserves to look forward to post-45 years of relaxed retirement. Yet the facts are that four-fifths of single persons over 65 are poverty-stricken, with yearly incomes of less than $2,000, and two-thirds of family heads over 65 have incomes of less than $4,000 annually.

"Poor people are the bulk of the old," says the New York Times. "If you weren't poor before you reached your 60th year, you are likely to be so hereafter."

The doctor's have to be thoughtful persons will free themselves from the financial distress and daily drudgery that is ahead by making provision now for relaxed retirement years.

A savings account with us is a step along the way.

Q.—With the present treatment of tuberculosis is there any hope of curing the disease?

A.—Tuberculosis is most likely to be arrested through rest. The great danger lies in the fact that many persons with tuberculosis, when they begin to feel better, discontinue treatment even though the disease is not arrested.

Q.—With the present treatment of tuberculosis is there any hope of curing the disease?

A.—Tuberculosis is most likely to be arrested through rest. The great danger lies in the fact that many persons with tuberculosis, when they begin to feel better, discontinue treatment even though the disease is not arrested.

Q.—Can a positive reaction to the tuberculin test be changed to negative with treatment?

Spring Makes Bow At 'Fashion Bouquet'

In a setting of pink and lavender topiary trees, members and guests of the Arlington Heights Junior Women's Club recently viewed a collection of spring and summer fashions from The Hope Chest.

Knee-length and tastefully predominated. There were hats in all colors — red, yellow, royal blue, orange and turquoise — and in all styles. To exemplify the featured fashions, there were three-piece suits with wide, wide-lapels, two-piece suits with wide-lapels, and a day suit with a wide-lapel. Because of its wrinkle-resistant nature, it makes it a perfect travel outfit.

THE KNOT look also has been the cocktail dress. One Paul designed a three-piece suit with a wide-lapel. This dress provides a dressy, tailored look.

Break Ground For Christian Education Unit

Ground-breaking ceremonies for the new Christian Education Unit of the Southern Baptist Church, E. Central rd. and Arlington Heights, will be held at 3 p.m. Sunday.

Plans for the $240,000 addition were developed by the committee elected by the congregation in April, 1965, with Carl H. Bowen, 115 W. Campbell, Arlington Heights, as chairman. Karl W. H. Dyke, church school superintendent, said the addition is needed because of the church's rapid growth since its organization four years ago. Sunday school enrollment already has reached 450, he said.

Other committee members are Mrs. M. J. Connelley of Mount Prospect, C. R. Johnson, 520 Bushway, Arlington Heights, J. V. Keller, 512 W. Spaulding, Arlington Heights, chairman of the church's board of trustees and R. W. McDonald, 110 N. Patton, Arlington Heights.
